

WHAT IS PE-RU-NA?

Is it a Catarrh Remedy, or a Tonic, or is it Both?

Some people call Peruna a great tonic. Others refer to Peruna as a great catarrh remedy.

Which of these people are right? Is it more proper to call Peruna a catarrh remedy than to call it a tonic?

Our reply is, that Peruna is both a tonic and a catarrh remedy. Indeed, there can be no effectual catarrh remedy that is not also a tonic.

In order to thoroughly relieve any case of catarrh, a remedy must not only have a specific action on the mucous membranes affected by the catarrh, but it must have a general tonic action on the nervous system.

Catarrh, even in persons who are otherwise strong, is a weakened condition of some mucous membrane. There must be something to strengthen the circulation, to give tone to the arteries, and to raise the vital forces.

Perhaps no vegetable remedy in the world has attracted so much attention from medical writers as HYDRASTIS CANADENSIS. The wonderful efficacy of this herb has been recognized many years, and is growing in its hold upon the medical profession.

When joined with CUREBS and COPAIBA a trio of medical agents is formed in Peruna which constitutes a specific remedy for catarrh that in the present state of medical progress cannot be improved upon. This action, reinforced by such renowned tonics as COLLINSIA CANADENSIS, CORYDALIS FORMOSA and CEDRON SEED, ought to make this compound an ideal remedy for catarrh in all its stages and locations in the body.

From a theoretical standpoint, therefore, Peruna is beyond criticism. The use of Peruna, confirms this opinion. Numberless testimonials from every quarter of the earth furnish ample evidence that this judgment is not overenthusiastic. When practical experience confirms a well-grounded theory the result is a truth that cannot be shaken.

Mistaken Aim.

"Your aims are all wrong," said the political economist.

"You must be right on that point," said the anarchist. "It is mortifying to see how few of our bomb throwers hit the right person."

THE MILK PAUL is kept free from staleness, sliminess and stickiness if it is washed with Borax and water in the following proportions—1 tablespoonful to a quart of water.

Gold from the Sea.

The electrolytic recovery of gold from sea water is still a dream of many European chemists.

Emma Goldman, so it is stated, intends to inaugurate "a reign of terror" in this country.

A Southern editor expresses the opinion that Kermit Roosevelt inherited his modesty from his mother.

In the German army, too, the automobile threatens to become a destructive weapon.

Was the strike in the Taddy bear factory fostered by the enemies of those animals who regard them as destructive of the "natural instinct" in little children?

Statisticians say that in a family of average wealth it costs $25,000 to raise a boy and $37,000 to raise a girl.

An order has been issued in Chicago to the effect that telephone operators are not to say "Please" in answering a call.

Mr. Walter Wellman must expect to live a long time if he is to wait for good weather before attempting to reach the North Pole.

Beginning with the increase of 1 cent a pound on the wholesale price of beef, within the past fortnight there has been a general advance in the prices of nearly all the necessities of life.

The price of milk has been advanced in several cities to 9 cents a quart, retail.

The cotton planters' Congress. Growers of cotton and manufacturers of cotton goods from seven different nations have met in convention at Atlanta, Ga.

There is one consolation the baseball fans all have—if their favorite club didn't win this year it is going to win next year.

San Francisco is sending so many high officials to prison that pretty soon a distinguished man at liberty there will be a curiosity.

Sir James Crichton-Browne has said that what ails England is that the people do not eat enough.

Wheat and corn still keep getting higher, but pig iron has fallen in price $1.50.

The manager of an office had advertised for an office boy.

"Well," he said to a late applicant, "I suppose you can read anything and write anything, and figure a little, and use the typewriter a little, and—"

"Now!" interrupted the boy, "if I could do all them things I'd strike yer fer yer own job. I ain't nothin' but an office boy."

At the Zoo.

"Mamma," asked Tommy, peering through the iron fence that inclosed the animals, "which is the kangaroo and which is the kangaroo?"

Spent $300 on Doctors and Remedies, but Got No Relief—Cuticura Cures in a Week.

"Upon the limbs and between the toes my skin was rough and sore, and also sore under the arms, and I had to stay at home several times because of this affection.

I had tried many other remedies and several doctors, and spent about three hundred dollars, without any success, but this is to-day the seventh day that I have been using the Cuticura Remedies (costing a dollar and a half), which have cured me completely, so that I can again attend to my business. I went to work again to-night. I had been suffering for eight years and have now been cured by the Cuticura Remedies within a week.

Fritz Hirschmann, 24 Columbus Ave., New York, N. Y., March 29 and April 6, 1906."

SKIN SORE EIGHT YEARS.

William Jennings Bryan, describing his world tour in New York, praised the Ceylonese.

"The Ceylonese," said Mr. Bryan, "are the politest, the urbanest, the most tactful people you can imagine."

"They have a proverb that gives some idea of their delicacy. This proverb says: 'It is safer to pull the tail of a tiger than to call a lady's attention to her first gray hair.'"

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Best Bracer.

Americans, as a people, are probably the most nervous of any in the world, and there is a growing tendency to use "bracers"—a use which quickly develops into a habit.

Probably the best "bracer" for the nerves—and one which is certainly harmless—is cold water. The Russians have great faith in this cure, splashing it over the face and holding the hands in it for several minutes.

A number of the best French doctors advise such of their patients as suffer from nerves to sit quietly for half an hour with bare feet.

Do Lightning Conductors Conduct?

The efficiency of lightning conductors is fairly well attested by the freedom of the great cathedrals and tall-spired churches from injury. St. Paul's and Westminster Abbey, for example, are well protected, and serve to safeguard a large area surrounding them.

His Best Answer.

The meekest kind of a little boy joined a Sunday school class in a West Philadelphia church. He did not know the other scholars and appeared nervous, half-showered and ready to cry at any second.

Mistaken Aim.

"Your aims are all wrong," said the political economist.

"You must be right on that point," said the anarchist.

"It is mortifying to see how few of our bomb throwers hit the right person."

THE MILK PAUL is kept free from staleness, sliminess and stickiness if it is washed with Borax and water in the following proportions—1 tablespoonful to a quart of water.

Gold from the Sea.

The electrolytic recovery of gold from sea water is still a dream of many European chemists.

Emma Goldman, so it is stated, intends to inaugurate "a reign of terror" in this country.

A Southern editor expresses the opinion that Kermit Roosevelt inherited his modesty from his mother.

In the German army, too, the automobile threatens to become a destructive weapon.

Was the strike in the Taddy bear factory fostered by the enemies of those animals who regard them as destructive of the "natural instinct" in little children?

Statisticians say that in a family of average wealth it costs $25,000 to raise a boy and $37,000 to raise a girl.

An order has been issued in Chicago to the effect that telephone operators are not to say "Please" in answering a call.

Mr. Walter Wellman must expect to live a long time if he is to wait for good weather before attempting to reach the North Pole.

Beginning with the increase of 1 cent a pound on the wholesale price of beef, within the past fortnight there has been a general advance in the prices of nearly all the necessities of life.

The price of milk has been advanced in several cities to 9 cents a quart, retail.

The cotton planters' Congress. Growers of cotton and manufacturers of cotton goods from seven different nations have met in convention at Atlanta, Ga.

There is one consolation the baseball fans all have—if their favorite club didn't win this year it is going to win next year.

San Francisco is sending so many high officials to prison that pretty soon a distinguished man at liberty there will be a curiosity.

Sir James Crichton-Browne has said that what ails England is that the people do not eat enough.

Wheat and corn still keep getting higher, but pig iron has fallen in price $1.50.

The manager of an office had advertised for an office boy.

"Well," he said to a late applicant, "I suppose you can read anything and write anything, and figure a little, and use the typewriter a little, and—"

"Now!" interrupted the boy, "if I could do all them things I'd strike yer fer yer own job. I ain't nothin' but an office boy."

At the Zoo.

"Mamma," asked Tommy, peering through the iron fence that inclosed the animals, "which is the kangaroo and which is the kangaroo?"

Spent $300 on Doctors and Remedies, but Got No Relief—Cuticura Cures in a Week.

"Upon the limbs and between the toes my skin was rough and sore, and also sore under the arms, and I had to stay at home several times because of this affection.

I had tried many other remedies and several doctors, and spent about three hundred dollars, without any success, but this is to-day the seventh day that I have been using the Cuticura Remedies (costing a dollar and a half), which have cured me completely, so that I can again attend to my business. I went to work again to-night. I had been suffering for eight years and have now been cured by the Cuticura Remedies within a week.

Fritz Hirschmann, 24 Columbus Ave., New York, N. Y., March 29 and April 6, 1906."

SKIN SORE EIGHT YEARS.

William Jennings Bryan, describing his world tour in New York, praised the Ceylonese.

"The Ceylonese," said Mr. Bryan, "are the politest, the urbanest, the most tactful people you can imagine."

"They have a proverb that gives some idea of their delicacy. This proverb says: 'It is safer to pull the tail of a tiger than to call a lady's attention to her first gray hair.'"

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Spiritual affinities are all very well, but can they cook?—New York American.

When you see a woman having a good time out in the rain it's her own complexion.—New York Sun.

The "Automobile Polka" is the latest dance. We presume it is simply killing.—Washington Herald.

A new angle on the mother-in-law wheeze will be to refer to her as "on my affinity's side."—New York Mail.

Probably Wellman has left word to be called when the wind shifts and blows toward the Pole.—Philadelphia Press.

If the oceanic war keeps up, crossing the Atlantic will soon be cheaper than staying at home.—New York Tribune.

Now that fashion's decree calls for "curve-less women," there may be less nature-faking done by the fair sex for a while.—Washington Post.

Just now the man who came over in the Lusitania takes precedence of the one whose ancestor came over in the Mayflower.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

An ocean curiosity the Lusitania is as big a success as the sea serpent, and involves no risk of harsh words to nature fakers.—Washington Star.

"No curves for women," is fashion's latest edict, and there is now a chance that we can safely regard them as the "straight goods."—Washington Post.

There is one consolation the baseball fans all have—if their favorite club didn't win this year it is going to win next year.—Philadelphia Press.

San Francisco is sending so many high officials to prison that pretty soon a distinguished man at liberty there will be a curiosity.—Atlanta Constitution.

Sir James Crichton-Browne has said that what ails England is that the people do not eat enough.

Wheat and corn still keep getting higher, but pig iron has fallen in price $1.50.

The manager of an office had advertised for an office boy.

"Well," he said to a late applicant, "I suppose you can read anything and write anything, and figure a little, and use the typewriter a little, and—"

"Now!" interrupted the boy, "if I could do all them things I'd strike yer fer yer own job. I ain't nothin' but an office boy."

At the Zoo.

"Mamma," asked Tommy, peering through the iron fence that inclosed the animals, "which is the kangaroo and which is the kangaroo?"

Spent $300 on Doctors and Remedies, but Got No Relief—Cuticura Cures in a Week.

"Upon the limbs and between the toes my skin was rough and sore, and also sore under the arms, and I had to stay at home several times because of this affection.

I had tried many other remedies and several doctors, and spent about three hundred dollars, without any success, but this is to-day the seventh day that I have been using the Cuticura Remedies (costing a dollar and a half), which have cured me completely, so that I can again attend to my business. I went to work again to-night. I had been suffering for eight years and have now been cured by the Cuticura Remedies within a week.

Fritz Hirschmann, 24 Columbus Ave., New York, N. Y., March 29 and April 6, 1906."

SKIN SORE EIGHT YEARS.

William Jennings Bryan, describing his world tour in New York, praised the Ceylonese.

"The Ceylonese," said Mr. Bryan, "are the politest, the urbanest, the most tactful people you can imagine."

"They have a proverb that gives some idea of their delicacy. This proverb says: 'It is safer to pull the tail of a tiger than to call a lady's attention to her first gray hair.'"

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

"In what way?"

"In both so much depends on capitalization and making things sound right."

Relationship.

"After all," remarked Mr. Crampton, "there is a certain relation between finance and poetry."

Our Own Minstrels.

"Mistah Jinkins, why am a scoldin' woman's tongue, when it's goin' all de time?"

"I am not sure, George, that I understand you. 'Why is a scolding woman's tongue, when it's going all the time'—what is the rest, George?"

"Ain't no rest to it. Got caught off yo' base dat time, didn't yo', Mistah Jinkins?"

"Ladies and gentlemen, the eminent tenor, Misson Yelkie Phewry, will now sing the favorite sentiment ballad, 'Answer Me the Old, Old Question, Love; How Do You Eat a Soft Shell Crab?'"

FIVE MONTHS IN HOSPITAL.

Discharged Because Doctors Could Not Cure.

Levi P. Brockway, 8 Second Avenue, Anoka, Minn., says: "After lying for five months in a hospital, I was discharged as incurable, and given only six months to live. My heart was affected, I had smothering spells and sometimes fell unconscious. I got so I couldn't use my arms, my eyesight was impaired and the kidney secretions were badly disordered. I was completely worn out and discouraged when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, but they went right to the cause of the trouble and did their work well. I have been feeling well ever since."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Limit.

Jim—Gruet is terribly absent-minded.

Jack—I should say so. I've known him to telephone to his office and ask if he was in.

State of Ohio, City of Toledo, Lucas County.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, Ohio, and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, it acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Misunderstood.

The manager of an office had advertised for an office boy.

"Well," he said to a late applicant, "I suppose you can read anything and write anything, and figure a little, and use the typewriter a little, and—"

"Now!" interrupted the boy, "if I could do all them things I'd strike yer fer yer own job. I ain't nothin' but an office boy."

At the Zoo.

"Mamma," asked Tommy, peering through the iron fence that inclosed the animals, "which is the kangaroo and which is the kangaroo?"

Spent $300 on Doctors and Remedies, but Got No Relief—Cuticura Cures in a Week.

"Upon the limbs and between the toes my skin was rough and sore, and also sore under the arms, and I had to stay at home